BETA FOOD CONSULTING

is a contract product development company dedicated to providing quality products with quick turnaround times. We specialize in working with all sectors of the food industry – retail, foodservice, industrial, and ingredient supply. From recipe to finished product, beta can assist you through all phases of the product development cycle.

INGREDIENT TECHNOLOGY

Strengths unique to beta food consulting are assisting food ingredient suppliers with ingredient testing, technical validation, protocept creation, and prototype development. We can evaluate a novel ingredient, think of appropriate product applications, and develop prototypes for customer presentations or trade shows.
